MICRODERMABRASION

Microdermabrasion is a technique that aides in the repair of facial skin damaged by the sun and minimizes the effects of aging. We use a medical grade, non-invasive device that circulates tiny crystals across the skin at a high pressure. The process allows for an exfoliation and resurfacing of the skin. A customized facial is also included with this treatment. Best results seen within 6 to 8 treatments.

For post-operation patients, or those with sensitive skin, an organic version of buffing mineral crystals is offered to provide a lighter, less intensive treatment.
